2010 Accomplishments:

- ❖ Collaborated with the NIEM PMO to orchestrate, assemble and produce a highly dynamic and successful Panel discussing NIEM evolution, conformance and best practices (June 2010). *
- ❖ Planned, orchestrated, assembled and produced a highly dynamic and successful Panel to provide agency perspectives and share lessons learned and best practices on the subject of Rapidly Standing-up Emergency Response Information Sharing capabilities (Dec 2010).
- ❖ Planned, orchestrated, assembled and produced an interactive and successful Panel of industry thought leaders on the topic of SOA Governance.*

* Video recordings of panel sessions are available on the ACT-IAC Web site. Go to www.actgov.org, pull down the menu for "Knowledge Bank", and choose "Webinars & Video Recordings".

2011 Potential Projects:

National Information Exchange Model (NIEM)

Collaborative project with NIEM PMO and other stakeholders to develop a Panel for the 2011 NIEM National Training Event.

National Information Sharing Strategy

Collaborative project with the Information Sharing Environment (ISE) Program Office to distill, synthesize and summarize information to support the evolution and development of the National Information Sharing Strategy.

National Incident Response Information Sharing Capability

- ❖ Compiling and presenting best practices, lessons learned, and recommendations on establishing a common operating platform for the national incident response capability.
- ❖ Applying social media applications to enhance and support improved emergency response information sharing capabilities .

Why Should You Get Involved?

- ✓ Establish working relationships with potential industry partners
- ✓ Opportunities to meet and work closely with influential, active government agency personnel
- ✓ Help shape the dialog and direction of information sharing initiatives throughout the federal government

"Through my work with the C&T Information Sharing Committee, I've been able to learn, develop deeper relationships with peers, and contribute to initiatives that are truly critical to the well being of citizens of America and other countries."
